CLIPPING FROM EXCHANGES

Selected from the Road Map.

Now, all together. Three grants for the road map.—Detroit News.

Thanks to Three Many of Them.

Blessed are the pure in heart. They don't get on the front page.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

No Place Like It.

To some of the moderns, the house beautiful is the one that can support a mortgage to pay for the car.—Boston Transcript.

The A B C of M.

The A B C of the Massachusetts automobile situation is Adams out. Butler out of one thing and into another, and Cox very much wanted.—Manchester Union.

If We Are to Thrive.

Increased taxation must cease if this nation is to thrive. There are a great many reflecting Americans who believe that increased taxation must cease if this nation is to survive.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Revenue Suggestion.

The throng of visitors to the White House continues in spite of the intimations given out that the President does not care for handshaking. Congress should pass a law providing that admission to the White House should cost $1, a right of the President working should be $5, and a handshake should be $5. Perhaps they could pay the bonus from these fees.—Salem News.

Quakers Preparing to Revitalize.

Another manifestation of the trend toward church unity is the movement to bring together the two principal American bodies of Quakers, both known collectively as the Religious Society of Friends, but distinguished informally as the "Progressives" and the "Hicksites," the Progressives being the chief of the two Orthodox groups. The Hicksite schism occurred in 1828, and the approaching centenary of separation is looked upon by leaders of both divisions as a fitting occasion for formal reunion.—Springfield Republican.

Closed Incident in U. S. A.

Carrie Chapman Catt announces triumphantly that woman suffrage is irresistibly spreading throughout the civilized world. This may be quite true, nevertheless the fact has relatively only an academic interest for America. For with the suffrage amendment in force, the question of women's rights in the pristine meaning of the expression is closed as far as the United States is concerned.—Detroit Free Press.

Revival of Signposts.

Signposts, like maps, serve as a stimulus to holiday travel, they provide incentives to new journeys, as milestones mark their gradual realization. A fresh interest has come to the arms of the signposts of the key letter and number which signify that, though locally indirect and obscure, they are part of an important through route.—London Times.

Babbitt's Wall Papers The Dining Room

The walls which form the background in the Dining Room are of special importance. They add richness to one's furnishings, add taste and charm to one's abode and make one's china fairly sparkle with attractiveness.

The right background also, as it may be called, adds to the beauty and coloring of the hostess or her guests' gowns. In fact, by contrast it seems to give added brilliancy and gaiety to any occasion.

If the furnishings permit, wall-paper rich in designs, colorings and textures should be used and one should always keep in mind that a warm or rich pattern gives an air of cheer and gracious hospitality.

Call today and make your selections and be convinced that our exclusive store is the "right" place to buy correct wallpapers, at the lowest prices.

LAMAR MENTON

Spokane's Asacopators have been engaged to play at the opening dance at the Stamford Country club on Friday evening of this week.

The ladies of St. James' church realized about $35 from their rummage sale conducted yesterday at E. J. House's store on Elm street. The sale will be continued today.

The reception of the Freshman class of Oneonta High school to the faculty, alumni, and students of the institution will be held on Friday evening, with dancing from 8 until 11 o'clock.

ANNIVERSARY WEEK

Anniversary for May 19 to 21 at Oneonta and Palace Theatres—Special Attractive Offerings Booked.

The Oneonta and Palace theatres will observe the week of May 19th as Anniversary week, it being the seventh anniversary of the advent of the Schine Theatrical corporation in this city. Both theatres will be decorated uniquely and attractively.

On Monday and Tuesday evenings the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs of the city are uniting in the production of "A Womanless Wedding" for the benefit of the projected Community Day Nursery at the Oneonta theatre and its success is already assured. At the same time the management will present on Wednesday "Daughters of Today," on Thursday, "Lonely Road," and on Friday and Saturday, "The Little Girl Who Was Too Late for School."

At the Palace on Monday and Tuesday, "Big Brother," will be the feature play, with Tom Moore, Raymond Hatton and other big stars in the cast. On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Pola Negri will be the star, while on Saturday, Hoot Gibson, in his greatest success, "Hoot & Laddie," will be the feature. There will be special musical numbers for this event.

The Schine Theatrical corporation is the product of the genius and business acumen of J. Myer and Louis W. Schine of Gloversville, where general offices are maintained. Their slogan has been from the first, "Treat the Public Right."

BASEBALL HERE SATURDAY

High School Baseball Team to Have Edmonston Team as Opponents—To Play in Canadilla Friday.

The fans of Oneonta may well expect an interesting ball game here on Saturday afternoon when the local High school nine will have as their opponents the first team of Edmonston High school. Oneonta opened its season last week by defeating Cooperstown by a score of 6 to 2 in a very pretty game, and are looking forward to another hard battle on Saturday. Besides a large number of students, it is considered that many of the older fans of the city will avail themselves of the opportunity afforded by the game on Saturday.

The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock and the nominal admission charge of 10 cents is made. For students this charge is cut in half.

On Friday afternoon the O. H. S. team will play Canadilla at the latter village, a game once postponed due to rain, and an excellent game is anticipated. The local team is somewhat handicapped this week by the ineligibility of Mulkins, Daley, and McGuinness, two of whom are catchers, but the berths have been well filled. Delaney will catch, according to present plans, and about the same line up as was used last week will be seen in the other positions.

Y'S BOWLING LEAGUE BANQUET

Annual Banquet at Association Building Last Evening—Menton and Pater. Awarded—Address by Rev. J. A. Dodge.

Some 35 members of the Y. M. C. A. Bowling league were in attendance at the annual banquet held at the association building last evening, closing the season. The banquet was scheduled earlier but various causes accounted its postponement until last evening. The dinner, an excellent one, commencing with fruit cocktail and closing with strawberry shortcake, was served by the ladies auxiliary.

Secretary Lang, known in bowling circles as "Mickey Duley," was toastmaster, and Jerry Wilson of Coatsville sang. He also favored the diners with a solo and an encore. President James H. Cleary awarded the medals and prizes. The members of the winning team, the Dodgers, Thomas Matthews, captain, Ernest Damachke, James Dibble, Ben Battista and John Pinto, each received a bronze medal.

The gold medal for the highest average for the tournament was won by Dewey Thomas, whose creditable figure was 155. The silver medal for the highest single game went to Clyde H. Breesee, with a score of 245. R. B. Hotaling won the silver medal for the highest total score for three games of any match, who made 621.

Three special prizes donated by Clyde H. Breesee for the second half of the tournament were won as follows:

Highest single game, Clyde H. Breesee (245).

Highest three games in match, R. B. Hotaling (621).

Highest score for single game by team, the Braves, each receiving $1.

Responses followed the awards, W. H. Hoffman speaking for the association, pledged its support to the bowling league, asserting that they give the winter life and pep during the winter season. C. L. Holmes outlined the program of work planned for the boys. Clyde H. Breesee spoke of Tournaments Past and Future, in which he made some timely suggestions relative to future events.

The report of the nominating committee was made by the chairman, J. S. Lawson, and the following officers were elected: President, James H. Cleary; vice president, Clyde H. Breesee; treasurer, W. A. Bliss; secretary, A. C. Lang.

The last speaker of the evening was Rev. J. A. Judge, of the Chapin church, whose subject, "Teamwork," was interestingly handled, the gifted speaker emphasizing its importance in all activities of life. The address was greatly appreciated by all. The program ended with the singing of America, all departing with keen anticipation of the pleasure of another tournament and banquet at its close when the snow again drives the members indoors.

ONEONTA INSANE ASYLUM

Chief Horton, Who Has Been Testing Proposition for Nearly a Week, Thinks Binghamton Better Location.

There may be residents of Oneonta who think that the city would be a suitable location for one of the state asylums, still Chief of Police Horton is not one of that number, especially if the institution is to be conducted under his direction.

And he ought to know. He thinks that Binghamton is far preferable to Oneonta under the conditions specified, and he has been testing the proposition for nearly a week.

William L. Watts, who was arrested last Friday by D. & H. Officers Brown and Farone, and who has been detained here in the city jail since that time, is apparently not of sound mind, and the local officials are inclined to believe that he is an escaped inmate of one of the country's asylums, since he was wearing some sort of a uniform at the time of his arrest.

Commissioner of Charities Avery has been interested in the case and efforts to find out where he belongs have proved in vain.

Chief Horton is in favor of committing the man to the Binghamton state hospital, rather than conducting a private institution for him in the city.

Notice

The Italian people of Oneonta will celebrate on August 16, a feast day, D. M. S. S. Assunta, at Nehwa park, with music and fireworks. All interested are requested to send contributions to the committee.

BEHIND THE SCENES

You Would Want To See the Wonderful Wedding That Took Place. If You Could See Just One Moment.

The place—Municipal hall. The time—almost any evening this week. The characters—three some of Oneonta's most prominent citizens and professional men, mostly engaged, in a hearing for the Womanless Wedding to be presented at the Oneonta theatre Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week by the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs for the benefit of the fund for the creation of a day nursery and girls' dormitory in Oneonta.

Hert Lauren, the mother of the bride, is standing in the center of the stage receiving the wedding guests as they try to keep one eye upon the suggestions of Miss Miller and the other closed to the expert advice of Jerry Wilson, father of the self same bride is at the side of the stage receiving the guests as they rebound from the greetings of mother, Clyde Breesee and Bert Lane, little brother and sister, are capering about among the guests, always out of reach of the camera, others are there. Now—

"Come on now, you wedding guests," says Miss Miller, director of the production, in her pleasant southern drawl, "come up the aisle as your numbers are called, greet mother, bow to the audience, then walk over and greet father, then scatter and walk around just like you were at a real wedding. Come on, now, real pretty like. O, Mr. Brigham, a lady doesn't walk like that, a lady walks in a straight line. Swagger a bit. Shake hands like a lady. Now bow. Good. Who's next, Mr. Keenan, Mr. Keenan, where's your ears. Number 10, No. Dr. Mills, you're 12. Sit down, we'll call you when you turn comes. Stop that, Mr. Tupper, you're an old maid, not a circus clown. And you too, had Mr. Getman, we'll never finish if you all don't stop dancin' aroun' like that. Your song is next, Mr. Bookhout. Sing, man, don't mumble your words so. Get ready, Mr. Franklin, you all is the bride and she can't be late. And so on. And now the 'ladies' have been taught how to walk in truly feminine manner, have been taught how to scatter and how to scatter and have been drilled in singing 'O, Gee, O, Gosh, O Golly, I'm in Love' and the rehearsal is over. Miss Miller is speaking again:

Another Group of Kiwanis-Rotary Actors and Actresses. Guess again.

Miss Miller is speaking again:

"Do you all know that this is going to be a big show? You're coming fine, men. Have you tried the costumes on yet? We'll make them fit if they don't now. Yes, Dr. Lang, we'll have plenty of paint and powder. And the specialties are coming fine. You sure have a lot of good singers and dancers in Oneonta. Those girls in the choruses are awfully clever. They're good looking, too, even if some of them are your daughters. It's coming fine, men, and now it's up to you all to tell everybody about it. Nobody's going to want to miss it if they know how much fun it's going to be."

BENEFICIARY SOCIETIES

Dr. J. Conkley, Mayor Field Manager of the weekly luncheon yesterday evening an address by Daniel J. Conkley of Rochester, state held manager of the Kiwanis club, in the evolution of the fraternal beneficiary societies. Mr. Conkley is a clear and magnetic speaker and his address showed that he is conversant with his subject and has at his tongue's end a mass of statistics connected with both fraternal and commercial insurance.

Mr. Conkley, in opening his talk said that there is nothing competitive in the attitude of fraternal beneficiary societies toward commercial insurance companies, and nothing but commendation.

The inception of fraternal beneficiary societies occurred in England 250 years ago in this country, although the Birth of Abraham was established in 1852 and the mutual benefit society of the locomotive engineers in 1863, the real inception of such societies was the organization by the miners of Meadville, Pa., of the American Order of United Workmen in 1868, and that society is called the father of the present system. There are now 212 societies in the American system, with a membership of over ten million, their four billion dollars have been paid in death benefits and more than 98 million dollars in sick benefits. These societies, he said, are carrying out the greatest welfare work ever known. Their objects are humanitarian with no idea of profit. They have assisted widows and have educated children in over two and a half million homes.

The rates of insurance now being charged, he said, are sufficient to cover the cost and will never be raised. They are the same as those of commercial insurance companies except that they are paid in the form of cash benefits.

Both systems make use of the same actuary tables and each has access to records of the others. He stated that there is room for all who are working to relieve the distressed.

Mr. Conkley ended his excellent address with a well worded, eloquent appreciation of the idea of fraternity and the opportunity to assemble with the brethren, enjoy the sociability and to receive and dispense sympathy, encouragement, and help among congenial people and to live in accordance with belief in the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

Raymond M. Tucker was the chairman of the day. It was announced that Wednesday evening, May 22, will be ladies' night and that O'Hay, the entertainer, has been engaged to furnish the entertainment for the occasion.

F. M. Hodge and C. Godwin Turner of New York, F. H. Robinson of Fly Creek and Reginald Covell of this city were guests.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

Six Students at High School Chosen on Scholarship of Past Three Years.

The students of Oneonta High school, class of 1924, who have been chosen as commencement speakers were announced by Principal VanDeusen yesterday: Charles Lauren and Clyde Johnson, and the Misses Nancy Coleman, Lillian Hurley, Helen Pidgeon, and Mary Spencer.

These students have been chosen on the basis of scholarship during the past three years and their selection is indeed one of the highest of high school honors.

Principal VanDeusen said yesterday in commenting upon the selections: "It is a custom of Oneonta High school to choose two boys and four girl speakers this year is particularly gratifying to me and others connected with the school, since the two boys chosen were included in the six students of the school who had highest averages for the three years. It is needless for me to say that this condition is out of the ordinary."

DEATHS

Mrs. Henry Borden.

Mrs. Henry Borden passed away suddenly at the family home at 21 Hudson street at 6:30 o'clock last evening. She had been confined to her bed since she sustained serious injuries when struck by an automobile at the corner of Main and South Main streets on April 12, but it was thought that her condition was improving. Her heart proved unequal to the heavy strain put upon it, however.

Nellie Place was born in Morris on February 2, 1859, and was the daughter of Jonas and Mary (Snedeker) Place. In September, 1883, she was united in marriage, at Milford, to Henry Borden. Their entire married life has been spent in this city.

Surviving are the husband, two sons, Harold Borden and Jesse North, the latter by a previous marriage, and a brother, Alvin Place of the Hemlocks, and a sister, Mrs. Eva Sargent of Milford. There are also 12 grandchildren.

The funeral will be held from the home at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. Rev. John W. Flynn of the First Methodist church officiating. Interment will be made in the Plains cemetery.

AMERICAN LEGION MEETS

Matters of Importance Discussed by Ex-Servicemen at Monthly Get-Together.

Any funds remaining from the fees collected for aiding ex-servicemen will pay their applications for the state bonus, after expenses have been met and the men who are giving of their time for the work have been adequately compensated will be given to the Veterans' Mountain camp. It was decided at a regular meeting of Oneonta post of the American legion, held Tuesday evening in K. of P. hall. Already nearly 200 men have been assisted by the committee, which has its headquarters on the second floor of the post office building.

It was reported that the recent spring dance had netted the post $240.60. The report was accepted and the committee discharged with the sincere thanks of the post.

Memorial day plans were discussed and it was announced that the Legion, the G. A. R., and the Spanish War Veterans would pool the funds received by each organization from the city and purchase portable monuments to be placed on graves of ex-soldiers instead of the usual cut flowers, which are usually withered before night falls on Decoration day.

It was decided to adopt a squad of Company G in accordance with the plan outlined some time ago by Captain Louis M. Baker and also to organize a post troop of Boy Scouts. The following were named as the troop committee: Commander, Lyman S. DeLaBater, Raymond M. Tucker and Edwin R. Moore. These men will select a scoutmaster and assist in connection with the organization of the troop.

The advisability of sponsoring a production of the Legion movie, "The Whipping Boy," was discussed and a committee was appointed to look into the matter. The adjutant, Walter M. Goldsmith, was authorized to ascertain whether or not the legislature had empowered the giving of state bonus money to the next of kin of those ex-servicemen who died prior to the enactment of the bonus law, and if not, why not.

Captain J. A. Judge spoke eloquently of the work of the Veterans' Mountain camp, urging a firm stand against those who claim that the Legion is using coercion to secure bonus allotments to the camp and who are in reality trying to split the organization.

Following the meeting a delicious luncheon of sandwiches, coffee and strawberry shortcake was served by the post mess sergeant, Albert T. Winn.

Condition of Accident Victims.

The condition of Mrs. C. W. Peck of this city and Joseph G. Moore of Albany was reported last evening from the Fox Memorial hospital as continuing very favorable. Mrs. Peck is improving very nicely, while Mr. Moore is able to be about the hospital building.

POWERFUL LOCOMOTIVE

ENGINE OF REVOLUTIONARY DESIGN TO BE GIVEN TRYOUT ON MESSENGER DIVISION.

Supremacy of Electric and Oil Burning Locomotives for Freight Handling to Be Challenged by Recently Completed Locomotive Operating Under 250 Pounds Steam Pressure—Will Operate Between Oneonta and Mechanicville.

Schenectady, May 14.—Supremacy in the hauling of railroad freight, claimed recently for electricity upon production of an electric locomotive, powered by oil-burning motors and capable of moving heavy trains at low cost, will be challenged shortly with the introduction of a steam locomotive operating at 250 pounds steam pressure and incorporating features of design upon which engineers have been working four years. The locomotive, produced through the joint efforts of American Locomotive company and Delaware and Hudson railroad and accessory engineers, is nearing completion in the locomotive company's shop in this city. After final tests it will be taken to Atlantic City for exhibition at the Master Mechanics' convention the week of June 30. It then will go into service in the Albany-Schenectady division of the Delaware and Hudson railroad, operating between Oneonta and Mechanicville.

Muhlefeld Gets Credit.

John E. Muhlefeld, son-in-law of L. F. Loebe, president of the Delaware and Hudson, is given credit for major share of the design of the new engine. The number, 1409, first in a new series, will be assigned, and the locomotive is expected to be the first.

Why They're Using

Joint-Ease for Burning Feet

Just because it is now known that burning, sore, aching, swollen feet are caused by trouble in the many joints in the foot and joint-ease works right in and gets to the seat of the trouble—the cartilage and ligaments of the joints. And to think that for generations we have been powdering and soaking our feet, thinking the trouble was only skin deep—an old-fashioned idea.

Well, better late than never—just stop the powdering and medical bathing and other foolishness for three days and just rub on Joint-Ease and remember when your feet are in good shape and burn no more.

WEATHER FORECASTS FOR FARMS DURING HARVEST

Service Will be Given by Telephone Daily to Aid in Work of Getting in Crops.

Utica, May 14.—The appropriation bill for the federal department of agriculture, which has passed the house of representatives, carries an item of special interest to the fruit growers and farmers of New York. Through the efforts of the New York representatives, particularly Representative Walter W. Magee of Syracuse, a member of the house committee on appropriations, funds are provided which will allow the U. S. Weather bureau to extend its special weather forecast service for fruit growers during spraying operations, and for general farmers during the harvest season.

Dr. W. M. Wilson of the weather bureau at the college of agriculture will have charge of the service. He says, "If the bill as it now stands is finally approved by the President, it is doubtless will be, any community or group of farmers having telephones will be entitled to receive the harvest weather forecasts, beginning July 1."

The county and home demonstration agents are cooperating with him in arranging the details.

The forecasts will be prepared especially for the use of farmers in planning harvest work. They will be sent out by telephone at about 10 a. m. every day, except Sunday, and will tell the farmer what kind of weather to expect for the next two to four days. They will also advise him when to push his work with confidence of having good weather, and when to exercise caution.

The service has been tried out in a limited way for the past two seasons, and farmers who have used it say that it is a great help in getting in hay and grain in good condition. Communities desiring the service should ask their county or home demonstration agent to make necessary arrangements. Dr. Wilson says.

In Their Own Words...

Only five years ago the first package of Rinso was made in Cambridge, Mass., put on a grocer's shelf, sold to an American housewife, and used in place of bar soap, to do a weekly wash. Today over a million packages of Rinso are sold every week. What is it about Rinso that has given it this sweeping success?

The following letters, a handful only of the many received by the makers of Rinso, tell in the simple, sincere language of the women themselves just what it is that Rinso does and why it comes as one of the greatest practical discoveries of recent years to the American housewife.

"I SAW AN AD in the street car"

"Not long ago I saw an ad in the street car 'Soaking takes the place of rubbing.' The next day I sent for a box of Rinso and tried it. I was delighted with the result and now wash my children's clothes without any effort whatsoever. I just had to write and tell you how 'wonderful' I think Rinso is and have told several of my friends to try it."

"MY CLOTHES used to come out so yellowed but now they are snowy white"

"I always had trouble with my clothes—they used to come out so yellowed. Then a friend told me about Rinso. I found it makes a wonderful soap solution I couldn't get any other way. This soapy solution just removed every bit of dirt and then it all rinsed out completely. There was nothing left to yellow the clothes—there couldn't be, because there was no soap to stick—it was all dissolved. "I am now delighted with my wash—my clothes are always snowy white."

"NO HELP did I get"

"I am doing washings for people who are not able to do it. At first I tried everything. I would say to my husband, 'I hope this helps me, but no help did I get.' My grocer said one day, 'Why don't you try Rinso?' At first I washed from 7 o'clock in the morning until noon. I got so tired, I could not sleep. Now I am through washing and ironing in one day. "At a demonstration at our store not long ago, I bought a case of the large size package of Rinso. The lady who lives above me asked if I had a machine. I showed her my two hands. I cannot give Rinso enough praise and I would walk a mile for it."

"BOUGHT thirteen boxes at our church fair"

"I bought a package of Rinso just to try it a bit and used it according to directions, and I really the results were marvellous, so I have bought since about a dozen fair tickets and I have recommended it to my neighbors who are using it with good results. "Then I found that Rinso is excellent for removing finger prints from white paint and for washing all woodwork. It has cut my housecleaning troubles in half. I will never use anything else, because it is both labor-saving and time-saving."

"THE CHILDREN get ink and shoe polish on their hands"

"Rinso made my clothes clean without rubbing them to pieces on the board. It proved such a help in the laundry that I experimented on the walls and woodwork and now use it for general cleaning. The children get ink and shoe polish on their hands and they take Rinso to wash their hands. I call it 'Rinso the Universal Cleaner'!"

"The MAGIC-LIKE way it cleans paint"

"I feel that my clothes are not clean if I use any other soap or soap powder, but what I particularly praise Rinso for is the magic-like way in which it cleans paint."

"A RATHER Pretty Compliment"

"The other day, after she had finished hanging out her washing, my neighbor remarked, 'There's no getting away from it, that Rinso is the stuff to wash with!' That coming from the mother of two boys who has a none too small washing, is rather a pretty compliment."

A NEW KIND of LAUNDRY SOAP that simply SOAKS dirt out

RINSO is a new kind of soap that dissolves completely—makes a rich soapy solution that gently soaks out all the dirt. It does away with rubbing soap on the clothes to get them soapy and then rubbing the soapy clothes to get them clean. Then it rinses out thoroughly leaving no suds in your clothes to make them gray and dingy. No bits of soap to turn them yellow under the iron. Just shake some Rinso into a washtub, add hot water, and you'll get the wonderful soapy solution that is the only soap you need for your set table, your boiler, your washing machine. Get Rinso from your grocer today—regular size or big new package. Lower Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

"WELL LIVED IN ONEONTA"

Not So Me Is Everywhere. That Veteran Railroader of the D. & H. M. System, William M. Shields, Representative Branch in Company Bulletin.

The D. & H. Company Bulletin, of which Royal C. Johnson, resident of Oneonta, is editor, and which is issued twice each month from the general office of the system in Albany, carries in its latest number an appreciative sketch of William M. Shields, a veteran railroader whom Oneonta is proud to recognize as one of her citizens. The complete term of Mr. Shields' service with the company was 47 years and 4 months, and of his experiences on the road the Bulletin says in part:

"There are many train service employees on the Muskegon division and others who have or are still holding positions in the yards in Oneonta, who can date the beginning of their railroad career back to a time when they first met William M. Shields, retired conductor and yardmaster, who lives at 8 Division street, Oneonta. For nearly 40 years prior to his retirement, his figure—medium in stature, a kindly face back of a flowing white mustache and bowed glasses, always dressed in black or other dark fabrics and a black fedora hat—characteristically worn—was part of the 24 hour panorama that might have been made of the railroad property in his home city. He was a company man—that is he was always loyal to his obligations as an employee and likewise devoted to his work; he was a hale fellow well met because his appreciation of men was keen and he was ever willing to play a man's game, to meet his fellow man on even ground and to make sacrifices, if necessary, in order that none might judge him wrongly.

"He became a railroad man somewhat by chance. His father, Michael Shields, was a farmer who had gone into the forests near Beekmantown, Clinton county, New York, cleared 150 acres of a 110-acre tract and there established a home. It was there that he was born on December 1, 1850, the ninth among ten children. During his earlier years he attended the country school at Beekmantown. Corners in a typical little school house that is still standing. Then, as he grew older, he assisted his father in the work on the farm, which was devoted to dairying and sheep raising for the greater part.

"Wood was very cheap, and four-foot lengths of the best that was cut brought only $2 a cord in the Plattsburgh market. Other products of the farm and forest were equally as cheap. The land was very stony and it was with some difficulty that it was prepared for crops. Canadians who came across the border and whose services were to be had for a nominal sum, were engaged to build stone walls. These field partitions, as they might be termed, were much different from those with which most of us are familiar. Great trenches were dug, the majority of them being about seven feet wide by three feet deep, and these were filled with stone, while above the ground the stone was piled in an orderly way the height of an ordinary fence."

Becoming tired of farm life Mr. Shields, while yet a lad, left home and engaged in other branches of industry, his travels taking him to Great Bend, and other Pennsylvania towns, where he had his first taste of railroading by taking a few trips as brakeman on the D. & H. W. system, and still later he was with Jones of Binghamton, manufacturer of scales who originated the well known sales slogan, "He Pays the Freight."

Continuing the Bulletin says: "A dull season came and he went to the Delaware and Hudson roundhouse at Liberty street and there was given employment coaling and wooding locomotives. When the Nineveh branch was completed, however, it caused a reduction in the force at Binghamton. He was urged by Charles Jones, then Master Mechanic, to remain with the company. This he did, and while he had an ambition to go firing, for he had always entertained a liking for machinery, he made a trip with 'Bill' Sullivan as a brakeman on a gravel train on July 6, 1871. After a second trip, which was made to Oneonta, the crew was laid off temporarily and, although he preferred to continue in railroad work, he returned to the Jones plant.

"Five months later, or on November 1, the same year, his long railroad career actually began. It was in train service. With John Sullivan, a brother of 'Bill' Sullivan, previously mentioned, he made a trip from Oneonta to Carbondale. He recalls that the train south consisted of about thirty cars, while on the return only twenty-five cars were drawn, a pusher being required on the hill north of Carbondale, the same as is the practice today. One day in each direction was required for the trip. Both wood burners and coal burners were being used on the road at that time. For seven years he worked as a brakeman, and then was promoted to the position of a conductor and made his first trip from Oneonta to Quaker Street (Delanson) and return. The road was all of single track, and many problems entered into train running that long since were discarded as the result of improved methods of dispatching. From February 1, 1880, until July 1, that summer, while there was a depression in business, he again worked as a brakeman, but was again set up and continued as a conductor until April 1, 1882. From that time on until the date of his retirement, he was connected with various capacities or another, serving in turn as an assistant yardmaster, general yardmaster, caboose inspector and interchange clerk. "He recalls considerable difficulty

The state department of highways has awarded the contract for the reconstruction of the state highway between Afton and Nineveh, a distance of 4.15 miles, to J. F. Paddenford of Sherburne, who is to receive $144,912.10. The engineer's estimate for the job was $125,707.69. WEATHER AND FERTILIZER

What May Happen During Blossom Time to Forest of Fruit.

CHICAGO, May 14.—Apple blossom time is about due and soon fruit growers will be speculating on the season's fruit crop. Many know to their sorrow that a heavy blossom as necessarily means a full crop of fruit, and some of the reasons why the blossoms fail to set fruit are given in a recent statement on the subject issued by the horticulturists at the experiment station here. Main, cold winds, warm sunny days followed by still cold nights during blossom time are given as the chief causes of failure of fruit plantings.

"The chief cause of failure of fruit blossoms to set fruit is unfavorable weather conditions," says the station horticulturist. "Of these conditions, rain, accompanied by a cold wind, causes more damage than any other one thing. Warm sunny days followed by still, clear, cold nights are also dangerous because the fruit blossoms are forced prematurely during the day to be injured by low temperatures at night."

Insects Important.

"Bees and other insects are essential to the proper pollination of many fruit blossoms and weather conditions which prevent the insects from working lead to an unsatisfactory set of fruit. Rain washes the pollen from the anthers, the pollen grains may be chilled or otherwise injured by excessive moisture, the blossoms may be stripped from the trees by strong winds, these and many other dangers meet the fruit plantings at this season and may mean the difference between success and failure of the fruit crop.

"Nothing can be done to control weather, of course, but the fruit grower can help matters somewhat by selecting fruit varieties with reference to their ability to withstand adverse weather conditions. Following cultural practices which stimulate resistance to cold and exercising care in selecting the orchard site will also help to minimize the dangers of spring weather."

FOUR LEAF CLOVER MEN

Project Workers Show Their Enthusiasm to Increase Membership in Their Organization.

Again the four leaf clover signs of Boys' and Girls' Club work are beginning to show along the country roads and village streets of Orange county. Each sign means that a Junior Project Worker lives in the home and is doing some worth while work in agriculture or homemaking. Before the last of June over 1,000 of these signs will be put up by boys and girls from 10 to 15 years of age who are enrolled in one or more projects.

The four leaf clover stands for achievement—the goal toward which every project worker aims in his or her efforts. The it's appearing in each leaf stand for the four-fold training each project worker is to give himself to make his head to think and reason, his hands to be willing, his heart to be kind, and his health to be good that he may have a strong body.

There are more difficult projects for the older boys and girls which require more work and more complicated problems. As this is the fifth year of organized club work in Orange county this is practically the first year that any boy or girl will enroll as fifth year club members, but a good many who have enrolled will come in the fifth year class. Many clubs have practically become permanent fixtures. A garden club at Meeker hill, near Unadilla, is organized for its third consecutive year. The club meets every two weeks with its leader, William Hendrick, and there discusses garden problems.

HUSBAND SAID WHY NOT TRY IT

Wife Said She Would. Result, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well and Strong

East Randolph, Vt.—"Last winter I was not able to do any work at all. I had backache, headache, side ache, and was sick all the time for six months. We read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspaper, and my husband said to me, 'Why don't you try it?' So I said (would, and he went and got me a dozen bottles. It has done me more good than I can ever tell, and my friends say, 'What have you done to yourself?' You look so well. I tell them it is the Vegetable Compound that makes me so well and strong. There is no use to suffer with backache and pains. I will tell every one what it has done for me."

—Mrs. F. M. Farns, Route No. 2, East Randolph, Vermont.

However, make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so ill that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their household duties.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, 98 out of every 100 report they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

ANALYSIS OF YOUR GASOLINE IN PERCENTAGES

What gas ought to give—and what this efficient gas does give:

power plus—yet
saves 30%

Ten years' engineering tests prove this

Check up on the performance of your motor—and on the yearly cost of gasoline. For here are new facts, brought out by 2 years of engineering tests.

You can have greater power from your motor—greater flexibility—greater driving pleasure. And at the same time you can save 30% of what gas costs you yearly.

What the chart shows

Note the chart above. It shows first what gas must do, in your motor. Then it shows what PUROL gas does—as proved by hundreds of tests.

The column of type, at left of chart, tells what the combustible units in gasoline must perform. Because all gas is made up of combustible units. The first 10% of them should give quick starting, the second 10% rapid pickup, the balance solid pulling power.

Now see how the PUROL performance curve meets each important requirement. That's because PUROL is refined or "built" to give full power in your motor. It possesses the right combustible units.

So it saves 30%

Gasoline that gives real power-performance also reduces general upkeep—and the other way 'round! So

PUROL has been proved to save 30% of yearly gasoline costs. Two years of tests—made on 30 different cars—prove:

That PUROL gives 33% greater mileage. That PUROL burns cleanly—saving 14.2% of gas that usually drips down into crank-case. In this way it saves $2.98 a year in lubricating oil.

And through the greater efficiency of oil utilized, it saves $10.33 a year (average) in general repairs.

The average car consumes 300 gallons of gas a year. So the first two PUROL savings—67% gallons at 20¢—total $17.50. All four show a total yearly saving of $36.81. That is 30% of the gasoline cost for the average car.

Test PUROL power today

Drive for just a few miles and you will see how PUROL performance adds to the responsiveness of your motor. Use it for a year and you will see how it also saves this 30% of what you ordinarily spend for gas.

Make a test today. You can get PUROL at any Pure Oil Service Station, or at any Pure Oil dealer. You'll know them by the pumps painted "Pure Oil him."

Wherever or whenever you buy PUROL, you will find its performance exceeding the same. Greater power with greater economy!

FIRE AT COUNTY FARM

Horse Barn and Toolhouse at Chenango County Farm at Preston Destroyed—Lightning the Cause.

Norwich, May 14. — Fire at the Chenango County farm at Preston this afternoon destroyed the horse barn and toolhouse, the cause being attributed to lightning. The fire was first discovered in the hay loft and quickly spread. Attendants were able to rescue a horse from his stall in the barn and the other contents of the barn and toolhouse were in a large part saved.

The inmates of the farm home united in fighting the fire with a hand pump and hose attached, connected with the reservoir which is fed by living springs. The chemical engine from the city was sent for and it made the 500-foot rise in six minutes, arriving in time to render assistance in saving other buildings.

The barn now destroyed is a relic of the former buildings, it being the only building left standing after the disastrous fire in May, 1899, when the main buildings were all destroyed and when 15 insane inmates were burned to death. At that time there was no fire protection, and no telephones and no assistance could be summoned until after the buildings were in ashes.

Following the fire there was prolonged opposition against rebuilding at the same farm, owing to the cost of supplies there, the lack of water and other features of its location. The buildings were, however, rebuilt of brick on the old site and the water problem solved by the purchase of several falling springs.

Charles Lathrop Pack Offers Prize For Best Forestry Essay and Oration.

Syracuse, May 14.—A new method of bringing to the public a better understanding of the national and private need of forests and the necessity for adopting an adequate forest policy in this country has been inaugurated by Charles Lathrop Pack of Lakewood, New Jersey.

Mr. Pack is president of the American Tree association and has been actively identified many years in carrying the "gospel of forestry" to the public. His latest move in this direction is in the form of a permanent endowment to the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse university for the purpose of providing $100 as an annual prize for the forestry student who will write and recite the best essay of 1,500 words on why the public should be interested in the conservation of our great natural resource—the forest.

The winner of this prize will be selected from the three best essays submitted and will be judged on the oral rendition as well as the subject matter of the article. Each student will be required to speak his composition before the entire student body of the college and the board of judges. The judges will be one professional forester, one expert on public speaking, and one newspaper writer.

Mr. Pack's idea in making this singular gift is to stimulate the art of public speaking in the forestry profession. The general lack of this ability on the part of the technical men engaged in the intricate problems of forestry has contributed largely, it is believed, to the almost universal lack of appreciation on the part of the people of the disastrous social and economic effects of forest devastation. The contest will be decided about June 1st.

Banquet at Walton Tonight. The annual banquet of the Walton Chamber of Commerce is to be held this evening at the state armory in that village. State Senator W. T. Byrne of Albany and Judge William H. Sullivan of Norwich are to be the speakers.

WILL BE RECONSTRUCTED

Numerous Stretches of State Road Highway Key in Four Conditions Scheduled for Reconstruction.

There are numerous stretches of state highway in this section which, because they were not designed to carry the heavy traffic that now uses them, are rapidly deteriorating and are badly in need of rebuilding or reconstruction, so the department styles permanent repair work.

It is not considered probable that the plans can be completed and contracts awarded for work upon them to commence this season, but there is every probability that the plans will be perfected so that they can be included in lists of lettings made during the winter for next spring's operations.

Among the roads in this section likely to be included in the list are the Cullers-Milford Center, Milford Center-Milford, Junction-Otego, Morris - Oillerville, Uadilla - Sidney, Grand George-Junction line, Delhi-Andes, East Branch-Sullivan county line and possibly others.

Pending the permanent reconstruction work it will be up to the local forces under the direction of Payee of the engineering department to see that they are patched and repaired for use during the present season. With favorable weather the work will be hurried but during the past few days little has been accomplished.

STATE LIBRARY INSTITUTE

Spring Meetings Planned—This District May 20, in Uadilla.

A series of meetings has been planned by the New York Library association, to be held throughout the present month in the several districts of the state. One was held at Sherburne this week, and that for this district is announced for the Community house in Uadilla, Tuesday, May 20.

A list of interesting topics has been prepared such as "The Librarian and the Community," "Increasing Use of Non-Fiction," "Ideal Relations Between School and Public Libraries," and "Work with Children in Small Libraries," these with nine or ten others being used for purpose of selection in arranging a program. Unquestionably not only the Huntington library but the school libraries of the city will be represented.

CAUTION NECESSARY

Repetition of Hottest Objections Discussed by Members Who Have Safely Passed One Dangerous Meeting.

Just because the pedestrian has passed out of the way of your car is no reason why you should not sound your horn is the opinion of Harry C. Hard, secretary of Oneonta Auto club, who also expresses the belief that the future of motoring is largely dependent upon making it safer for all interests.

Too many drivers assume, he says, that because danger appears to be passed they are not obliged to sound their horns or be cautious. "The trouble with this sort of reasoning," points out Mr. Hard, "is that it is a repetition of the possibility of an immediate repetition of that hazard or the development of one equally menacing."

The other day I was standing on the street corner watching traffic go by. A woman started crossing the street just as a machine came along. She did not notice the car, but the driver noticed her and was just on the point of sounding his horn and applying his brakes when he saw that she should by all rules of velocity step out of his way by the time he reached the place of crossing. But just as the woman neared the center of the street a car that was coming in the opposite direction, and that was being forced by a reckless driver to pass everything else on the street, forced her to step back a few feet. It was then that the driver of the first car appreciated the necessity of always assuming a repetition of the hazard. It was all he could do to stop in time to avoid hitting this pedestrian.

"In driving about Oneonta I notice that it is the custom for majority of drivers not to sound their horns if a car has just come out of a side street and crossed in front of them. If no traffic crosses in front of them they will be particularly cautious, but if one danger has passed they do not seem to figure on an immediate repetition."

"One driver, for instance, in approaching a crossroad on the outskirts of the city just narrowly missed running into a car that darted across in front of his path. He breathed a sigh of relief to think that the danger was passed, but it was a very brief sigh. The next moment a motor truck also darted in front of him. It was too late to avoid hitting this."

"Here was a case of driver being too much absorbed in danger passed and not sufficiently interested in avoiding what might be in store for him. The sensible driver, in my opinion, is always primarily interested in avoiding what might happen."

Clearing your stump land makes your farm "bigger"

PROFITABLE crops should be growing on that cleared land of yours—productive instead of idle acres. And blasting stumps is so much cheaper and easier than it ever was before.

Dumcorite is clearing land for many farmers around here. This du Post explosive blows out your stumps at lower cost and gives uniformly effective results. Dumcorite gives you one-third more sticks for each dollar with about the same strength, stick for stick, as 40% dynamite—and the slow, heaving action of 20%. It will not freeze or cause headache from handling.

Give us the chance to supply you with explosives this year. We carry large stocks of du Post dynamites for all blasting purposes on the farm. Tell us your job and we'll tell you the cost.
